Happy 45th Birthday Sixty Nine Club

Icelandic ash brought some strange benefits, among them East Coast Rail (now recently public railways again) put on extra trains which were available to advanced purchase ticket holders to use so Graham and I were able to get an earlier train down to London for 69 Club's birthday weekend. It belted down, stopping only at Newcastle and York, so on arrival we had plenty of time to head over to the Eagle in Vauxhall on Thursday night to meet up with some mates there. Off to a good start then. The Scottish invasion of London had begun with a very good turn out of members heading down at various times for the weekend.

Friday we spent 'doing' culture at the V&A and the Natural History Museums; they are evidence that we live still in a great country. Then into kit for a reception buffet at the Hoist—many thanks to Roger for pulling that together; his nibbles and snacks were much appreciated. The early evening beginning got us off to a good start and it was good to see some old friends. Oops, perhaps I should write some good friends! Anyway, we moved through to the main bit of the place and it soon filled up with much rubber- and leather-kitted manhood. Dark recesses could be rummaged through and investigated, and pleasant conversations could be had. I think I wobbled home across Vauxhall Bridge to our accommodation at Polly and Vaughan's in Pimlico at near closing time.

For Graham and me, Saturday day time was spent chilling out and catching up with news from our hosts. At this point I have to make a confession. I did not go to the arranged evening events as I had a long standing previous meeting to go to. OK, I was off for a bonk! I will now hand over to the very sexy Ken, who can fill you in on what happened on Saturday night.

Thank you, Dear!

Yes, indeed, filling in, and much 'colouring in' too!

Ten of us arrived en-masse and were politely and swiftly ushered in by club promoter 'Suzie Krueger' and her courteous staff. Once wriggled and shoe-horned into our play wear, we soon filtered off into this capacious multi-bar, multi-space, multi-level semi-subterranean fantasy land of sleaze, sweat and sin!!! The combination of quiet chill areas, pulsating dance floors, cruisy corners, a huuuuge and fabulously well-appointed play space—and reasonably priced beer—all contributed to a far more enjoyable experience than anticipated for a shy wee Hardon Virgin such as I—not to mention being surrounded by what must have been some of Europe's sexiest men—many of them near naked!!! With plenty of room for everyone, and catering for all 'tastes' and 'specialities', a good deal of social (or should that be oral???) interaction was easy with 'the regulars', and new contacts were easily made: these guys only bite if you ask them nicely enough!

Regrouping at the bar after five hours of public-spirited and utterly selfless searching for fulfilment, four of us (where did the other six go?) were well-ready to head back to our respective scratchers — even having a chariot roll up at the door, hailed by an ever so charming young door steward — and were swiftly wheeled back to Roger's residence at Wandsworth Common. All in all, a thoroughly enjoyable and reassuringly 'sociable' experience for 'Wee Ken'! I will, most certainly, be back!

Talking stick back to you again. Moggers! ...Ken McK

I can take over again for the Sunday brunch bit which I did manage to make after a long and very pleasant evening in Highbury and Islington. The Kings Arms pub is always a friendly social space: there was a great buffet there for us and a chance to get the gossip of events from the night before. Raffle prizes were drawn and much relief was felt by those managing to avoid winning anything gifted by the Duchess. At the end of the event many farewell sloppy kisses were exchanged. It only remains to write sincere thanks to the 69 Club for a great weekend, and may you have at least another 45 more years of success.

MSC Scotland website

The club website is a bit out of date. We have now sourced website designing software and are just waiting to familiarise ourselves with it before we update the site. If you have skills in website design or simply inputting and are willing to help with the club site please let us know. Remember this is your site for you: we want to reflect you ideas where we can. If you have any suggestions then contact secretary@msc-scotland.net with your ideas.

Many thanks to the Madge Beeton cleaning, ironing and alteration services for sorting out the club tablecloths. There's nothing worse than having to deal with dirty, crumpled frayed ends! Many thank sweetie! x x

Charity boot shine—April 2010

After the very successful boot shine event last December, it was decided to have another event in the basement of the New Town Bar. This event was to raise funds for Gay Men's Health. Steve M and David McF dusted off the leather and pride flags to adorn the basement bar walls and the camouflage netting hung from the rafters.

James and a few guys from Gay Men's Health came along to the bar with some free goodies and safe sex packs. Paulo and Buster decked themselves out in the leather and rubber gear, rolled up their sleeves and with a little bit of elbow grease and a lot of wrist actions managed to clean and polish their way through a selection of boots throughout the evening. Nothing hornier than the smell of leather and rubber with a side portion of fresh boot polish!!!!

Through the efforts of their evening labours, we managed to raise £200 between the boot shine contributions and donations from the New Town Bar clientele. Our sincere thanks to the New Town Bar for allowing the event to go ahead; this is the second successful boot shine event that MSC Scotland have had at the New Town Bar in recent months. Also a very big 'thank you' to Paulo and Buster for their time and effort doing the boot shine, but most of all to all the New Town Bar punters who generously gave donations.

Look out for the next boot shine event hopefully coming back to the New Town Bar real soon.

Calling all budding authors!!!

Hi guys. It's always good to hear what's been going on at club events throughout the year and to share these with others in the clubs. If you have been to events, especially other ECMC and FUKC Club events then we would be interested in hearing from you. It takes a lot of effort to produce each newsletter and although the committee is dedicated to help running all aspects of the club, many tasks of necessity take precedence over the newsletter. We therefore encourage all members of MSC Scotland to contribute where and when they can. So if you have been to an event that you think others will be interested in, then please drop us a line at the events@msc-scotland.net address and we will be in touch.

Any old kit to donate to the club?

There are many items of gear that members have donated to the club for sale—everything from second hand leather jocks or leather jeans. All proceeds raised from items sold go straight into club funds. We would like to thank those members who have already donated unwanted gear. More donations will be gratefully received—just give to a committee member.

Events — June to August

June 18–20: MSC Scotland BBQ. This year's event will be held in conjunction with BearScots; also MSC Scotland's special 'Leather Lottery' guests will be MSC Bournemouth. Again the event will be held at John Muir Country Park near Dunbar. Tickets for the weekend events will be £18, including private parties (note: for MSC Scotland and invited guests only) on the Friday and Saturday nights, and the BBQ on the Saturday afternoon/early evening. If you haven't got your ticket already please have your booking forms to the club PO Box by 9 June 2010. Tickets are limited so book as soon as possible.

June 25–27: Manchester Skin Weekend. Full details of this fun packed weekend can be found at www.oi-skinhead.com.

July 23–25: FUKC Conference hosted by MSC Bournemouth. See www.fukc.org.uk/fukc\_events.html for details.

August 20–22: MSC Scotland Festival Frolics weekend. Join us for private parties, festival shows and much more at our annual frolicking event. The private parties will be open to MSC Scotland and invited guests only. The Edinburgh International Festival will finish with the spectacular fireworks event on Sunday 5 September.

East Mercia MSC—Windmill Event

East Mercia MSC Windmill event -

What a fine body of men the East Mercia chaps are. This accolade was proven justified once again at their most recent event, a splendid weekend down in Norfolk, in a windmill venue. Unlike last year the weather this year was fantastic; clearly they have a hotline to somewhere. Friday started with people arriving in late afternoon to lug kit up the steep windmill stairs to the bonk rooms; meanwhile, tents and other shaky erections were going up outside. One arrival, who happens to be Head 69er, even brought a hostess trolley with him (he can try and explain that one away if you ask him). Others were not so well organized, including the East Mercia President's wife—he managed to bring a two-man tent that was obviously meant for Fifers only. Anyway the weekend really got going with the arrival of fish suppers, most welcome they were too.

Memories of the remainder of that evening are a bit of haze for me as drink was applied internally. However, I recall that some of us did rise to the occasion and reach the mill-top play room.

On Saturday, a gloriously hot day, after we all had a splendid full-fat breakfast, we all went our own ways. For Graham and me it was Wells-Next-The-Sea, then on to Cromer, on again to Seahouses for a delicious crab salad (no, I didn't catch any, not even of any kind), then back via the religious nutters' village of Walsingham where someone (Saxon Princess Richeldis de Faverches, 1061. Ed.) had a vision outside the pub one night and now it's like a mini-Lourdes.

A bit of rest, then the Californian theme for the weekend came into its own with a dress-up sherry party. Hippies; motorcycle cops; surfers; all made an effort: I am hoping no photographs make their way up here. After that East Mercia really wowed all present with a sit-down three-course dinner prepared that day (out of a very small kitchen). Congratulations guys, it was very impressive and delicious.

After dinner there was a short pause to chill and let stomachs subside before thrusting bodies into play kit. I think I got to bed about three a.m. Again it was either the mist coming in or the altitude of the windmill that causes me to be a bit hazy about that too.

Sunday again brought beautiful weather, with a later and more relaxed start for all. Some were heading off after breakfast and others were staying over to get another day in this wonderful place. Even though the journey is long if you haven't been to this event before I urge you to think about going, it's a great event and absolutely worth the effort. Many thanks East Mercia, you set a high standard.

Club
for sale

The club still has a number of polo shirts with the club badge embroidered on them. All polo shirts are black and come in sizes small, medium and large but if you need a different size then we can get them ordered for you. Each polo shirt costs £15; they are available through secretary@msc-scotland.net or at club nights in the New Town Bar and other club events.

Club nights

Club nights will be held on the 3rd Saturday of every month in the basement of the New Town Bar from 10pm until closing. The cloakroom (small charge of £1 goes towards club funds) will be available for those wishing to change into gear. Hope to see you guys there!
